Daniel M. Cooper MD, FACC

ABOUT THE PRACTICE Over the past six years Dr Cooper has aimed to provide highly personalized medical care to a small group of patients in his Concierge practice. In addition to Primary Care and General Medicine, Dr. Cooper provides Cardiology and Electrophysiology care to his patients with an office equipped for multiple types of non-invasive heart examinations which include Echocardiograms, treadmill Stress-Tests, Electrocardiograms, and Pacemaker/ICD interrogations. Our patients find reassurance in having the ability to directly speak with Dr. Cooper 24/7 and be evaluated either at home, our Office or at Sarasota Memorial Hospital. Same-day appointments and extended visits provide you with the ability to have all your needs met. We are the only Concierge practice providing all-in-one General Medicine, Cardiology, and the specialty of Cardiac Electrophysiology.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE RECOGNIZED BY YOUR PEERS FOR SRQ TOP DOCTOR?

It is a great honor and responsibility to be recognized by the Medical Staff as a Top Cardiologist and Internist in the Sarasota Medical community. In my position as Associate Professor of Cardiology and Medicine of Florida State University College of Medicine, I emphasize to my medical students the need to be well informed and skilled. The necessity to develop excellent bedside manners with empathy, is one of the pillars of medical care. It is of paramount importance to develop the ability and time to communicate effectively with patients, their families and with the consulting medical team. "The healing of my patients starts with a caring relationship and provides the cornerstone for my role as a physician, a teacher and a friend".

Highly trained in Cardiology, Electrophysiology and Pacing by the Cleveland Clinic, the number #1 Heart Hospital in the USA, Dr. Cooper is Board Certified in Cardiology and Internal Medicine, having trained at Buffalo General Hospital, the flagship Internal Medicine program of the State University of New York. He has attended the Harvard Medical School Internal Medicine Recertification. Dr. Cooper is the Associate Professor of Cardiology and Medicine, FSU College of Medicine. Over the past two decades Dr Cooper has cared for a wide range of outpatient ailments from common infections, diabetes, cholesterol, hypertension; to complex hospital medical and heart emergencies.
